The School Serves the Community

What do schools mean in a community today? Stryker Public Schools believe that the school is many things: the right and privilege of every boy and girl, and the responsibility of every citizen; learning, living, and learning to live; the What, the Why and the How of absorbing knowledge, and therefore, the seed of wisdom. School is change, struggle, frustration, but also satisfaction. School is the great stone upon which the community builds and depends.

We invite you to turn the pages of the 1965 PANTHIAN to learn more specifically what our school is today. We hope that you may understand why being part of a school can be demanding, exciting and fascinating for pupil, teacher, administrator, and Board of Education member, and why your school merits your active interest and support.

Where Is the Mayor?

The whole town was wondering what was meant by signs proclaiming boldly "WHERE IS THE MAYOR?" Did this mean that the mayor of Stryker wasn't doing his duty? Certainly not! It was the name of an adventurous undertaking by the student body of Stryker High, under the direction of Mr. Tolliver, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Nofziger and Mrs. Depew.

"WHERE IS THE MAYOR?" is a musical comedy in which the students of a small high school run the town for a day. The class discovers a highway which goes nowhere, and a mayor who has been elected for 24 years against no opposition and does nothing except fish. With the students' backing, elections are held and a new mayor is elected. The humorous story, with the true-to-life scenery and good acting, was a play well worth seeing. It was given on January 16 and 17, and by popular demand, again on May 2.

For the first time in years, a school musical was presented by the students of Stryker High School. Thinking of music, notes come to mind. "Notes"--a theme for the 1965 PANTHIAN! Read the notes which have been provided for your enlightenment and enjoyment.

Classes Prepare Students for the Future

Each day we add to our understanding of the world and gain knowledge which will help us in our adult lives. By means of our class work we are able to prepare ourselves for the future, whether it be for college or commercial and vocational fields.

The old adage says "Practice makes perfect." Dale Sanders, Sandy Robinson, John Schmidt, Pat Turritin, Roger Speiser and Vickie Aschli-man are learning the skills essential for speed and accuracy in Typing I.

As extra-curricular activities often take much of a student's study time in the evenings, Lynda Boynton, Sonja Arnett, Clara Mae Annette and Midge Rodgers find study hall an invaluable period for completing class assignments.

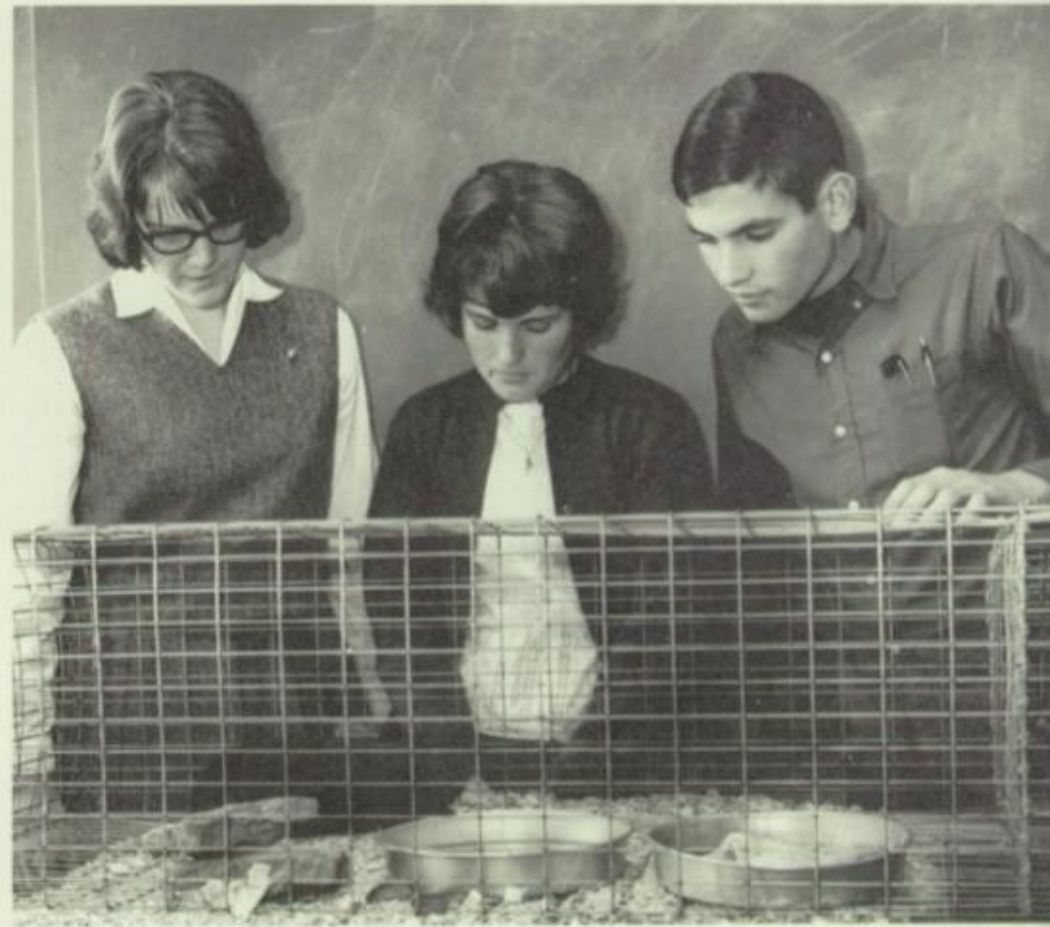

Bob Hunt and Dean Seigneur greet one another following the student assembly in which they debated the issues of the November 3 Presidential Election. This was a senior government project with each representing his party's standard bearer.

Industrial arts classes teach basic skills needed in the building trades. Mr. Hitchings is shown giving Ron Franks a few pointers in the art of woodworking.

Margie Morrison, Kathy Wonders, and Don Ruffer study the habits of a mink captured by students on school property. Under the direction of Mr. Johnson, laboratory facilities were provided for the students.

Fundamentals of homemaking necessary for everyday living are explored in Home Economics Classes. Cindy Towers is working on her sewing project as Linda Fitzenrider looks on.

Mr. Wetherby received his B.A. degree from Macalester College and his M.A. degree from Ohio State University.

The Board of Education, elected by and representing the citizens, meets the second Wednesday of each month to form school policy.

Student Life Reflects Varied Interests

With the support of many of the students, the Youth for Christ Club captured the County Rally attendance trophy several times during the year. An alert and eager Quiz Team also brought honor home many times for their club.

Directing the club's activities are its Advisor Mrs. Depew, President Dean Seigneur, Vice-President Darwin Clark, Secretary Karen Bernath, and Prayer and Follow-Up Captain Don Carroll.

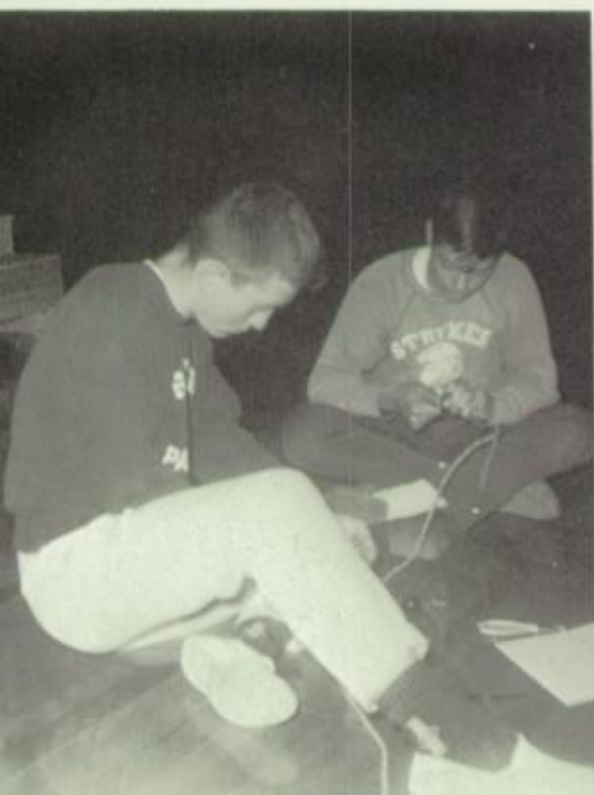

Terry Perkins delights in his job on the make-up crew for the musical. Marlow Rupp examines the staircase for the Senior play,

THE SPIRAL STAIRCASE. Kathy Wonders and Cathy DeGroff serve the refreshments at the GAA Christmas dance.

School is more than attending our classes every day, carrying armloads of books, and doing home-work every night. Much of our short stay in school is filled with all those meaningful "extras"--the basketball games, plays, dances, and carnivals. School is all this, and much more.

Senior Class Presents Thriller "The Spiral Staircase"

Jane Opdycke, Linda Brenner, Dean Seigneur, and Jim Waldfogel rehearse two tense scenes from "The Spiral Staircase."

SENIOR PLAY CREW. FIRST ROW: Mr. Tolliver, Fleagle, Brodbeck, Towers, Goebel, Headley, Carroll. SECOND ROW: Franks, Rupp, Moudy, Smith, Nickles, Speiser, Mealer, Sword. THIRD ROW: Hunt, DeGroff.

Juniors Present

"Her Majesty Miss Jones"

Set in the present, "Her Majesty, Miss Jones," a comedy with witty dialogue and colorful characterization, deals with the complications that arise when a famous TV personality comes to visit in a small midwestern town.

Directed by Mr. Tolliver, the cast included Penny Planson, Alice Robinson, Darwin Clark, Ed Robinson; Pam Guthrie, Clara Jones; Carla Zedaker, Jean; Paul Robinson, Ken; Diane Peugeot, Helen; Willie Peugeot, Tim Hayden; Linda Nofziger, Monica Marshall; Colin Rose, Mr. Higbee; Jim Headley, Captain Roberts; Judy Garber, Miss Spindle.

The play was presented April 9-10.

ABOVE: Linda Nofziger, a TV celebrity, finally finds her true love, Jim Headley. BELOW: In a scene from the play, Colin Rose and Pam Guthrie discuss matrimonial possibilities.

"Fantasy of the Sea" was the theme of this year's Junior-Senior banquet and prom. A castle, boat, treasure chest, fishnets, blue lights, and soft music set the atmosphere for the gala event. A delicious smorgasbord dinner was served, and was followed by the speaker for the evening, Mr. T. L. Parker, from Archbold. Recreation included dancing, pool, and ping-pong. At midnight a film entitled "The Magnificent Obsession" was shown, followed by a light breakfast for the suddenly hungry prom-goers.

Junior-Senior Is Dusk 'til Dawn Event

The treasure chest stood in the center of the dance floor, and was filled with an assortment of precious, glittering jewelry.

Right. Linda Brenner aims for the side pocket.

The John Hartman Combo from Bryan furnished the music for the 9-12 dancing set.

Carl Keith and Ed Starry give Tom Wyse some pointers on how-to-do-it-right at that popular game, bumper pool.

Community Selects Senior for PTA Queen

Linda Brenner was crowned queen at the PTA Carnival held October 23. Serving as her escort was senior class president, Dennis DeGroff. Girls are selected from each class. The public then votes for whomever they wish by dropping money in each girls' container. Votes are a penny apiece. The proceeds go for some worthy cause at the school.

PTA CARNIVAL ATTENDANTS. Sophomore--Cathy DeGroff, Ron Andres; Junior--Carla Walker,

THIRD ROW: Bob Buchanan, King--Denny DeGroff, Larry Zedaker.

Royalty Reigns at Holiday Dance

Sandy Mealer and Dennis DeGroff reigned as queen and king at the GAA Christmas Dance held December 19. This year's theme was "Christmas in the Park," and featured the Bushmen, a musical group, from Bryan.

Grade Pupils Learn Arts and Skills

Many classroom activities in the elementary grades provide the basic learning necessary for the development of a good citizen. Teachers and pupils enjoy working together to achieve the goals and to appreciate the wide variety of experiences in the fields of reading, arithmetic, English, French, science, social studies, art, physical education and music.

Panthian Expands Again

Jane Opdycke and Dean Seigneur, Co-Editors of the PANTHIAN select pictures to be used on the division pages.

Work began with a workshop at Bryan High School in October which was attended by several staff members. Then, weekly Monday sessions were held to prepare copy for the 104-page 1965 edition.

New sections which were added were student life, class life, and index. The business staff contracted for 300 yearbooks at $3.50 each and canvassed the businessmen for their patronage.

Keeping in mind many deadlines, the staff kept busy writing, typing, and designing layouts to present our "notes on SHS."

STRYK-HI STAFF. FIRST ROW: Short, Nofziger, Seigneur, Headley, DeGroff. SECOND ROW: Hunt, Opdycke, Fleagle, Sword, Walker, Kelble, Zedaker, Mrs. Rob-

Stryk-Hi Adds New Columns

Practicing the masthead slogan "For the students, by the students," Editor Betty Sword and Assistant Editor Sally Fleagle were responsible for providing a newspaper for the school bi-weekly.

Approximately 220 copies of the Stryk-Hi were mimeographed and sold at the rate of 75 cents a year or 5 cents per copy.

Besides the regular coverage of school news, the eight-page copy featured editorials, public-opinion surveys, information columns concerning colleges and books in the school library, grade, organization, and area school news, sports coverage and variety columns.

The Stryk-Hi was entered in the newspaper contest at Bowling Green State University and received an excellent rating.

FFA Instills Agricultural Leadership

Twenty-six members of the Future Farmers of America, advised by Mr. Clevenger, strive to achieve their motto: Learning to do, Doing to learn, Earning to live, Living to serve.

Their various activities include judging contests, field trips, state convention and money-making projects. A scrap drive and seed sales brought in money for the treasury.

At the FFA-FHA Banquet on March 24, Tom Wyse was crowned King of FHA and received the traditional jacket. Special awards were also presented to the hardworking members. Walter Coy, a 1961 graduate and an American Farmer, was awarded the honorary Future Farmer degree.

Officers for the year were: Terry Wieland, president; Russell Cramer, vice-president; Jerry Schmucker, secretary; Duane Peugeot, treasurer; Larry DeGroff, reporter; Tom Wyse, sentinel; Ned Short, student adviser.

With a membership of thirty-seven, the Future Homemakers of America are always working "Toward New Horizons," their club's motto.

A Valentine Record Hop was held on February 13 and the proceeds went to aid the Mental Health Foundation. Other activities included panel discussions, Christmas party, state convention. For income, the club sold cookbooks and vanilla throughout the year.

Climaxing the FFA-FHA Banquet, Sally Fleagle was crowned the FFA Sweetheart and received a white jacket.

Officers for the year were: Sally Fleagle, president; Penny Planson, vice-president; Judy Partee, secretary; Betty Ashliman, treasurer; Nancy Gentit, reporter; Joan Schlosser, parliamentarian; Suzette Wyse, song leader; Cindy Towers, historian.

Dionysians Work Hard to Produce "Our Town"

The Dionysians, observing their second year, help with many school productions by donating their time, money, energy, and ideals. Gaining theatrical experiences both on and off the stage, the Dionysians are learning more than the mere staging of plays--they are learning what is needed to make a good production.

Working hard to do a top-notch job on their production, OUR TOWN, the audience was at first started to see that none of the regular props were being used. The lack of furnishings made the actors do extra work by having to work harder to get the audience response so needed and desired in any production. Running two nights on March 5 and 6, the curtain closed on the happy but weary Dionysians.
